

Control

The power to direct or determine

To be successful a business needs to be profitable. To achieve profitability you need control - control over your expenditure, cashflow, budgets and costs. You need bluQube.

As both the volume and the type of financial transactions increases, it becomes progressively more difficult for finance professionals to manage and control monies coming in and going out of the business. Not only are goods and services bought and sold through new channels such as e-commerce, but also the structures of organisations are becoming more complex. The prospect of managing all of these disparate areas can often seem overwhelming.

bluQube has been designed so you can regain the initiative, bringing together in a single application all of the elements required to accurately manage and control the money in your business. More than just a unified ledgers system, bluQube provides a number of integrated modules that ensure that all types of transactions are recorded and updated automatically and accurately in real-time - without duplication or the need to re-key data from third party systems.

Control

Key Benefits

Accuracy

Easily and accurately manage all accounts from a single company to a large organisation with multiple sites, departments or entities – without spread sheets.

Integration

Smoothly and seamlessly integrate with third party applications, bringing in sales data directly for immediate debt visibility and control.

Flexibility

Receive all types of payments directly into the core accounting system, matching to appropriate invoices and printing a receipt.

Control

Account for and control inter-company trading and consolidate for reporting purposes.

Multi-currency

Manage unlimited currencies, coping with exchange rates and conversions.

Security

Utilise secure e-procurement, enabling complex orders to be placed on a simple point-and-click basis with fully structured authorisation control.

bluQube gives you the control which is a key requirement of any accounting system. By automating laborious and time-consuming processes and decreasing error-prone duplication of data entry, bluQube gives you the confidence that everything is as it should be – under control.
